Like previous years, the first day of the meeting will be an interactive Environmental Forum on issues of particular interest to the members. We will provide additional details when all the speakers are confirmed. Wednesday will also feature a "Young Guns" fieldtrip for younger professionals and those new to the industry.

The business sessions will highlight major initiatives currently underway and on the table for the future. These reports are very important, as the strategies developed at the meeting will largely dictate the future of the Association and your business. In addition to the business programs, other meetings and the trade show, the members will be electing Directors and approving the 2022 budget. All members and guests are welcome.
